MANY EXPECTED AT BOARD OF APPEALS HEARING

BOARD TONIGHT

Residents of Wilmington, alarmed by the name 'Hercules' appearing in a Board of Appeals advertisement in last week's Town Crier, are planning to attend en masse a hearing in the Town Hall tonight. The hearing is scheduled for 9 pm, and comments have been heard from nearly all the abutments, other residents in town, and various town officials which indicate a lively hearing.

Attorney Kenneth Johnson of Woburn, who will represent the appellants terms the excitement 'A tempest in a Tea Pot', and states that there is no danger involved in the proposed warehouse on Concord Street. 'The trouble' Johnson states, 'comes from the word Hercules. People think of powder when they hear this word. There is no powder or other explosive to be stored in this building, but a common paint ingredient which is now stored in other buildings in Wilmington. The Town Report of 1955 shows such a building on its front cover, a part of the Raffi & Swanson company, which uses a lot of this material in its manufacturing processes.'

Johnson explained that the Hercules Powder Company wants to erect a 40 foot by 100 foot warehouse, on land that it has an option to purchase on Concord Street. The warehouse will be used for storing Nitro Cellulose, a paint ingredient which is not explosive.

The Hercules Powder Company has had a warehouse in Quincy for the past 20 years in which they have stored this material but the land on which the storehouse stands has been taken by eminent domain, by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for a new highway. Because they had to move anyway, the Hercules Company decided that they might as well pick a point that was centrally located, and Wilmington was chosen for the logical site. There is no real need of their leaving Quincy, Johnson pointed out, and the Fire Chief of that city has stated that there was never any danger during the twenty years the warehouse was there. Wilmington was chosen because of its choice geographical position, and for that reason only, Johnson stated.

When asked to explain more fully on the properties of Nitro-Cellulose, Johnson stated that it is a common material, which is shipped by freight car all over the country. It is not an explosive, but it will burn, as will many other materials, upon exposure to oxygen. It is shipped in steel drums which are sealed tight. The Nitro-Cellulose is packed with alcohol, as it is shipped. There is less danger of fire with this than there is of gasoline, and no danger of explosion, Johnson stated.

Chairman Howard Woolaver of the Board of Appeals is expected to preside at the hearing.

ELEVEN STALWART LADIES ON MOTHER'S TEAM FACE 'GAME OF THE YEAR' CONFIDENTLY

The Little League Mother's Club expects confidently to win their annual game with the Little League, Sunday afternoon. The eleven ladies have been practising assiduously, and wind up their sessions this evening in the Little League Park.

Capt. Marilyn Farrell of Woburn Street states that the boys in Louie's Oilers are really going to be on the greased skids, when they meet the ladies Sunday.

Louie's Oilers, the winners of the Minor League championship, are prepared to give the ladies a run for their money. Possessing three good sluggers in the persons of Kevin McKelvey, Mike Shelley and Jimmy Corum, they predict that they will make more home runs than in any game in the season. They are equally equipped to stop the ladies, in defensive playing, for they point with pride to their battery, consisting of Billy Curtin and Jimmy Szadis, and to a sharp bunch of fielders including such worthies as Gustav Brown at first base, Corydon Coombs at second, Ronnie Christopher at shortstop and Bobby Gage at third.

It will be a cinch, predicted Manager Louis Weaver. 'Just wait until one of those ladies

EDITH NOURSE ROGERS UNOPPOSED FOR CONGRESSMAN

The Honorable Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell has the distinction of being the only unopposed candidate whose name will appear on the Primary Ballots on September 18th. Sheriff Howard Fitzpatrick of Middlesex County was expected to be unopposed, but the name of Edward J Fitzpatrick was filed in the Democratic party, and John Frederick Cahill in the Republican party listings. Edward Fitzpatrick is, according to rumor, expected to withdraw in favor of his namesake.

State Representatives Frank D Tanner and Charles Wilkinson, both of Reading, and both Republicans, will have plenty of competition. John P Collins, also of Reading is opposing them on the Republican ticket, and on the Democratic ticket three Woburn men are aspiring for the post, Thomas F Donohue, Frederick V Gilgun and William J Scalley.

The State Senatorial seat vacated by Senator George Evans provides the highest competition in the Republican hustings. John C Connelly and Lester W Bowen, both of Reading, Charles E Ferguson of Lexington and William D MacDonald Jr and Thomas W Ackerson, both of Wakefield are aspiring for the nomination.

Democrats aspiring for the nomination are David F Toomey of Lexington, William T Desmond of Billerica, Joseph M Curley of Wakefield and Leonard J Hebert of Lowell.

The Democrats are out in full cry for the County Commissioners nomination. Twenty two Democrats, none from Wilmington, have filed papers. Edward M App, of Woburn is a brother of Joseph App of Wilmington. James A Cullen of Winchester a former County Commissioner, is also among the contestants, and is probably the man to beat, as far as the other candidates are concerned.

Local observers on the political scene believe that there will be a heavier Democratic vote, in the September 18th primaries in Wilmington. They point out that the contests for Lieutenant Governor and State Treasurer should bring out the faithful adherents of the particular candidates. There are no contests in the higher brackets for the state Republican party.

POLIO VACCINE TO BE ADMINISTERED DURING LATE AUGUST

Wilmington's second series of Salk vaccine inoculations will be made during the last week in August, according to an announcement by the Wilmington Board of Health.

The American Legion Hall will again be utilized by the board as the site of inoculations, which will take place from August 27th through the 31st.

Eligible for Second Doses will be children under 15 and pregnant women who have received their first doses four or more weeks previously. Women who have borne a child since their first inoculation will also be eligible, if four weeks has elapsed from the time of the first inoculation.

First Doses will also be administered to 'stragglers' (children who missed the first shot), infants over six months of age, and pregnant women.

School children will have clinics shortly after school begins, and vaccine to be administered in a doctors office for both pre-school children and school children, as well as pre-natal cases will be distributed by the Board of Health. Arrangements for inoculations in a physicians office must be made directly between the patient and the physician.

ANNIE GALLAGHER BACK FROM FOLLOWING THE RED SOX

Annie Gallagher of Middlesex Avenue, who has been a steady baseball fan since the days of Cy Young, returned from a nine day tour last Monday, in which she followed the Red Sox from city to city to watch them play. She was accompanied by Anne Barrett of Reading.

Mrs Gallagher traveled by plane to Chicago, and after watching a three-game series, went on to Detroit. After the Detroit series, she hopped over to Cleveland, to watch a night game and two day games.

The whole trip was wonderful, Mrs Gallagher says. The Red Sox did well, winning five out of nine, but it was more than this that made her enjoy the trip. She stayed at the same hotels in which the Red Sox were staying, and therefore was able to talk to many of them.

And they're all a fine bunch of boys, as far as she is concerned. They were polite and courteous to everyone, giving out endless numbers of autographs to young boys.

Mrs Gallagher chatted quite frequently with Ted Williams, who became one of her favorites. Jim Piersal and Frank Sullivan were a pair of clowns she says, and she enjoyed them just as much off the baseball diamond as on.

THE BOARD OF APPEALS II

Last week in this column we spoke of the Board of Appeals because it has been our observation that too many people are calling for decisions here without proper understanding or preparation of cases.

Last Thursday evening a demonstration was had of this very fact. One of the persons to appear before this board had spent a total of $11 in fees and plans, without any knowledge of what he was supposed to do, or what it was all about. Needless to say he not only lost his money, but his case. In addition to this the people who sit on the Board and who get no pay for their efforts had the dubious pleasure of having an uninformed person waste an hour of their time.

The Board of Appeals exists for the purpose of correcting obvious faults in the Zoning Laws. It does not exist for the purpose of allowing someone to "get around the law" but to correct the abuses which sometimes occur. In last week's hearings was a perfect example of this, in some land that was made a part of the industrial zone but which was surrounded by homes, and could not be used industrially. Obviously land which is surrounded by homes should be used only for the erection of homes. In granting the appeal the Board corrected an obvious hardship.

At the same time it must be noted that there is a tendency in this and other towns for certain officials to use the Board of Appeals as a Catspaw. A difficult decision can be sidestepped by referring the case to the Board of Appeals. In the case of appointed officials a number of reasons may occur why a decision is difficult to make. In the case of elected officials there is always the fear that an unpopular decision may cost votes at the next election. In either case turning the problem over to the Board of Appeals is an easy way to "duck" the problem, and this is what is often done. It is a practice which is becoming more and more popular.

The Town of Wakefield has surmounted this by imposing a fee of $28 for a Board of Appeals hearing. Frivolous cases are thus ruled out, by the economics of the cost, and people are led to demand a decision from the proper authorities because to allow those authorities to "duck" will mean money out of pocket. There is much to be said for the $28 fee.

Another point, which should be mentioned, is the arguments that are only too often used, by people who are opposing a proposed variance. That is the argument of weight of numbers and noise; the "Idon'tlikeitandyoucan'tletthemdoit" type of discussion which is all too common. Unfortunately the Board of Appeals sometimes seems to be impressed by this weight of numbers and volume of decibels. Appeals are supposed to be decided on the merits of the case, and by no other criteria.

MILK SALESMEN IN WILMINGTON

A few months ago we spoke of the salesman for the out of town milk firm who sells the idea that only the milk company he represents has pure milk, and that other milk sold here is impure and unsanitary. Our friend is still knocking on the doors of Wilmington homes and selling the fear of the unknown to imaginative mothers.

It is time that this individual was told in no uncertain terms that Wilmington has a vigilant Board of Health, which inspects samples of all milk sold in this town. The local and other dealers sell milk which is as pure, if not more so, and if they didn't they would be very soon out of business.

But then, this man probably knows more than does our local Health Board. At least it would seem that he thinks so.

POLICE TAKE TO THE WATER

Police received a complaint from the Silver Lake area last Saturday concerning two men - Richard Faunce of Rhinecliff Rd, Arlington, and a Mr Owens of Bay State Rd, in Tewksbury - who were operating their motor boats dangerously on the Lake. TOWN NOTES

Weather

Delightful. All week long, during the last of July and the first of August, there was a mass of cold polar air over Wilmington. The days were cool and clear, and the nights even colder so that many slept under blankets. The weatherman promised warmer weather for Saturday, but it held off until Sunday, so that we had over seven days of really cool weather.

There were only two slight rain showers, .02 inch on Thursday and just a trace Saturday morning.

Total rainfall for the month of July was 3.02 inches.

Meteors

Every year as the earth swings around the sun on its annual journey it comes close to the path of a former comet, known as Tuttle's Comet, which was last seen in 1862. This year, we are told, the earth will pass directly through where the tail of this former comet should be, during the night of August 12th, and meteorites should be very common for those who want to take a

THOUGHTS ON THE REAPPRAISAL

We have been for reappraisal ever since 1935, as we have repeatedly stated in this column. We were for reappraisal because we believed that only in this manner could we achieve a full equalization, tax wise.

We have yet to make a full judgement as to the results of the present program, and it will be several years perhaps before we do.

What we have been wondering about recently is what is going to happen to Wilmington's farms, under the new valuation.

There is no doubt but that the new valuation took into consideration practically every factor that effected the price of buildings. It might seem to many that the values were too high, but it could be that it is a case of other contiguous towns and cities, to which we are being compared having values too low, and being in need of appraisal on their part.

But what of land values? The price of land is a very important factor in the life of any community. If you value land highly, the owners may be forced to sell, particularly in the case of owners of acreage, i.e. farms. This could be (not, necessarily in the present case) a method used by some politicians to force the sale of property.

Wilmington, like many other communities in the Commonwealth has farms with considerable acreage, but in which the owner works elsewhere too. Call them part-time farmers if you will, but the economics of farming in New England today is such that they are forced to be part-time farmers. It is the outside job that is often the factor that keeps the farm going.

We like to see the old farms in this town, even from a nostalgic viewpoint. We like to see them for the rural aspect they preserve. We think it is part of our life, our heritage.

If we increase the value of the land on these part time farms, because the owner is not a full-time farmer, then maybe he will be forced to sell.

Fine, some will say. We will get more homes here, and more taxes, and be a bigger town! Is this what we want?

Is it better to have farms, with the rural atmosphere, or is something else to be preferred?

TRANSFER OF LAND TO AVCO

The Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday evening, signed a plan which shows the conveyance of land owned by Samuel Pike of Lowell Street to the AVCO Corporation. The signing was of the 'No Approval Necessary' type, in other words a formality, needed only because of the requirements of the Registry of Deeds. About six acres of land is involved in the transfer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

STREET OILING PROGRAM

Capt. Larz Neilson, Town Crier
 Dear Sir:

Once again there are streets in Wilmington which are being oiled and sanded, and once again we have some questions.
 1. Federal Street. There is no sidewalk, and there isn't enough room for anybody to walk there. The sand is piled up on the side of the streets. If children want to walk down the street they have to walk down the middle. If the children are in the middle of the street where are the autos to go?

2. Concord Street. This was oiled last year. It is being oiled again this year. Are we to expect it is to be oiled again next year, and why?

3. Woburn Street. It was oiled from Concord Street to West Street. We voted $20,000 to lay a water main here, this summer or fall. Is it approved practice to oil the street before you lay the water main, or is this just a Wilmington practice?

4. The culverts on Middlesex Avenue and Church Street. Four culverts on these streets are about six inches below the street level, as the result of repeated street oilings. Someday some one is going to break the axle of his car, when the wheel dips into one of these culverts, and then the town will have to pay. There is a good chance that the accident may be much more serious than that. One of these culverts is near the High School, one is near the cemetery entrance, and the fourth near the home of Annie Cronin.

5. Why do these situations exist? Is there any connection between these situations and the closed meetings of the Selectmen?

Yours very truly,
 Elementary Citizen.

(Publisher's Note: After receiving this letter we took a trip down to Federal Street, and found no sand piles, as described. Other features described may be correct)

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

 Gentlemen:

May I, for the Jimmy Fund, express my thanks to the Wilmington Police Department and to the janitors of the High School and the Wildwood School for their wonderful assistance during the Jimmy Fund dances last Friday and Saturday.

THANKS FIRE DEPARTMENT

Dear Larz:

Would you please extend my thankfulness through the Town Crier to the Wilmington Fire Department for their help in a recent attack of asthma that my husband Tom Ouellette had. They were here within minutes with oxygen, called Dr Hosmer and they were all just wonderful.

Also, my appreciation to Mr White for the consideration he took to help me with Tom. We are so quick to condemn people that I feel they should be recommended when they do good. I can't thank them enough.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Ouellette.

BOARD OF APPEALS GRANTS TWO VARIANCES

The Wilmington Board of Appeals, on August 2nd, granted two variances from the zoning laws. Decision on a third appeal heard that night was held in abeyance, and a fourth appeal was denied.

William F Butt of West Street was granted the right to enlarge two lots of land owned by him, on Woburn Street, so as to erase from a plan a 'paper' street which ran between the lots. His appeal was unopposed.

Ralph H Chrisite of 2 Johnson Street, Woburn was granted a variance from the zoning laws in that he will be permitted to erect a dwelling on Eames Street, in area that has been voted industrial. Christie, who was accompanied by all the abutters pointed out that the two lots in question are entirely surrounded by homes, and could not be used for industrial purposes. The two lots are near the Woburn St.

end of Eames Street.

A third hearing found opposition from two neighbors, and no opposition from others. Mrs Mary Cronis, who has purchased the former Madam Eames estate in North Wilmington wants to have a rest home for four patients there. Two neighbors objected, terming it a business. A third neighbor had no objections when asked, and pointed out that there are three rest homes in Reading on Sumner Avenue, none of which can be so distinguished by a casual passer-by. Still other neighbors who were present said nothing.

The Board has not issued any decision as of this writing.

The fourth hearing of the evening was turned down, as being improperly prepared and presented.

gaze heavenward. The best time according to the director of the Hayden Planetarium of the Boston Museum of Science, will be after midnight.

Hornets

Every good Scout learns to know the insects, but some of them choose the hard way. Dennis De Lucia, of Beech Street, who spent the past week at Camp Wah-Tut-Ca, in New Hampshire can now tell pretty near everything there is to be known about hornets. He stepped into a nest of them.

No Bobcat Ha

The gendarmes, Saturday night received an excited telephone call that there was a bobcat in a tree in North Wilmington near the home of Dr Charles Rounds. Officers Markey and Dolan, the irrepressible duo, were assigned to the investigation. M & D found that the bobcat was really a racoon. Dolan wanted to climb the tree, and capture the masked intruder, but Billy Meade, who was in the neighborhood, saved the critter from any such fate. Billy just loves animals.

Dry Dry Dry

As of this writing our local fire chief has not yet issued a warning against open air fires, but he may be expected to at any moment. The woods are dry, the fields are dry, and the streams are drying up.

Cold Spring Brook, which runs from the lower end of Chestnut Street to join the Maple Meadow Brook, near the Town Memorial Park, has dried up completely.

Neighbors

Mrs Wavie Drew acquired a new neighbor, while on her vacation down at Falmouth. In the next cabin was none other than the Reverend Father Croke of St Thomas! It is a good question as to who was the most surprised.

The Farm and Trades School

Every youngster who watches Big Brother on television knows that that gentleman is a Graduate of the Farm and Trades School, on Thompson's Island in Boston Harbor, but not many of our Wilmington youngsters know that there are a number of Wilmington men who graduated from this school. These men, of course, will be interested to learn that the name of the school has been changed to Thompson Academy.

Heading the list of Wilmington graduates is Ed Osberg, president of National Polychemicals, and President of the Alumni Association is William C Burns of Federal St, a member of the class of 1937. Another graduate is Kenneth Walley of Park Road, class of 1941.

How Can I?

Q—How can I prevent rugs from wrinkling?

A—Dissolve one part of common glue with 10 parts of warm water. Hang the rug over a pole and paint the wrong side of it with a paint brush dipped in the solution. Use the solution sparingly or it may soak through and show on the surface. Perform this outside where the rug will dry quickly.

A—Wash the walls with strong viegar before applying the paper. This will make the paper stick.

Q—How can I give handkerchiefs a faint, lasting scent of violets?

A—Break up one-fourth ounce of orris root in a muslin bag and put it in the boiler for a short time when boiling the handkerchiefs.

Little Johnny Hersom demonstrates during a Little League game what the word 'little' really means. Johnny crouches low, so as to offer to the pitcher less of a chance of getting the ball across the plate between Johnny's shoulders and knees. Johnny's 'walking' average is said to be well over .500.

AVCO ON THE MOVE

Seventy to ninety families have already made the jump from their former environments to Wilmington, and have started working at the AVCO plant in Lawrence that opened last Monday, Aug. 6. A proximately four hundred AVCO employees will eventually be working at the Lawrence plant, and the consultants at the AVCO Housing and Information Center estimate that all of them will have moved in by the end of October.

There is still a shortage of housing, however. Rentals, in particular, are needed, and AVCO housing consultants are looking for 150 more of them. AVCO is hiring approximately 1800 people to work in the Wilmington plant, and they are being hired all the time.

Technicians and scientists are what they are primarily searching for, but secretaries and clerks are also needed. They are willing to hire people from Wilmington as well as from other places, as long as they have the necessary qualifications.

BOY SCOUTS HAVE WONDERFUL TIME AT CAMP

19 Boy Scouts from Wilmington had a wonderful time, during the past week, at Camp Wah-Tut-Ca, the Greater Lowell Council Boy Scout Camp located at Northwood Narrows in New Hampshire. The Scouts were under the leadership of Scoutmaster Walter Rogers of Troop 57. Some of the Scouts are continuing through this week.

Reveille for the Scouts was at 6:55 a.m., with the waiters having to immediately report to the Messhall. Scouting Classes were held each day, between the hours of 9:30 and 11:45 a.m., for those boys who wished to pass their achievement tests. Other classes were held for swimming, in the various categories, i.e. beginners, swimmers and non-swimmers.

Inspection of the camp, by the Camp Staff was held each afternoon at 2:00.

Each afternoon was devoted to a rest period, followed by games and swimming, and there were such diversions as long hikes, row boats, and movies. There were church services each Sunday.

The boys found the weather cold and the food good.

Charles and Phillip Sweet and Thomas Donahue are continuing in the camp for one more week.

JULIAN RYBICKI INJURED

Julian Rybicki, former Wilmington High School football star of 25 years ago received a grievous injury to his right knee, on July 27th in North Wilmington.

Rybicki, who once lived at 842 Woburn Street, had his right knee lacerated by an electric power saw. His employer, John A. Hussey of the John A. Hussey Contracting Company of Woburn related that Rybicki was trimming the roof boards of a newly constructed house and the safety guard caught on his trousers. His leg was cut quite badly, just above the knee.

A fellow employee used his belt as a tourniquet, and Rybicki was rushed to the North Reading State Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Charles P. Tung, assistant superintendent of the Sanatorium. He was later transferred to the Choate Memorial Hospital, in Woburn. Rybicki now makes his home at 1 Williams Lane, in North Woburn.

MAN CRITICALLY INJURED IN FALL FROM TRAIN

A man, identified by the Wilmington Police as Robert Gilbert, 36, of 237 York Street, Bangor, Maine is on the danger list in the Choate Memorial Hospital, in Woburn, as the result of what is presumed to be a fall from a train early Tuesday morning.

Gilbert was noticed near the B&M tracks, in back of the A.B. Sweezy lumber yard, by an alert crewman of one of the trains, who told the Winchester Tower. The Winchester Tower in turn notified the Wilmington police, and Officers Ellsworth and Langone, dispatched to the scene, found him.

Gilbert suffered internal injuries, broken ribs and lacerations to his face. He is believed to have been 'riding the rails' on a late train, and to have slipped or fallen. His relatives have been notified by teletype.

We'll steal all the bases, every time!

Weaver disclosed that his team has been having secret drills for the big event.

The ladies, as usual are planning the type of strategem that only they can play, including the placing of a blind umpire behind the pitcher's box. Their umpire is a great big secret, which all eleven ladies have sworn not to tell, which probably means that everyone in Wilmington already knows the name.

The ladies are really taking precautions this year. No tonics are to be served in bottles, but only in paper cups. They know what happens to umpires who appear prejudiced.

Seriously though, the ladies are really out for an afternoon of sport. Their afternoon will be concluded by the presentation of the Little League Trophies.

The Wilmington Tigers, winner this year, (manager: John Ritchie) will be presented with the winning trophy, and the boys who finish their Little League career, because of their advance age of 12 years, will each receive the official Little League Pin.

Minor League players will also be presented with pins, of different colors. Larry Cushing, well known Wilmington athlete and director of Physical Education in the Wilmington Public Schools will act as Master of Ceremonies, and introduce the men who make the awards.

This will be the last time this year in which the Little League Mothers will have opportunity to give their all for the Little League, and make some money for the boys, and the ladies are determined to do their best. Tickets are available throughout the town or at George's.

GEORGE HAS $5000 GOAL FOR JIMMY FUND

George Spanos, unofficial mayor of Wilmington has a $5000 goal, as chairman of the Jimmy Fund Drive in this community. George, well known restaurateur, is confident that the money can be raised.

This Saturday, in Villanova Hall, George, in the company of Frank King of Silver Lake is conducting a dance, for adults, with the music being provided by the orchestra of Dr. Warren Hookway of Billerica.

The 'Little Chinese', as George phrases it, meaning the CYO team of St James Parish in Boston is to play in Wilmington on August 19th. Led by the Rev. Father Tung, it is expected that the Right Rev. Mons. Albert Shea, formerly of St Thomas church will be present.

WILMINGTON PLAYGROUNDERS EXHIBIT CRAFTS IN SHOE SHOP

Children who are attending the Wilmington Playground at the High School, now have an opportunity to gain public recognition, through an exhibit of their crafts which began on Monday, August 6th, in the display window of the Shoe Craft Shop on Main St. The display, which includes leather articles, paintings, plaster molds and gimp bracelets, will continue for a week.

The idea for crafts occurred earlier in the year. Beverly Rounds, director of the playground at the High School, had been doing some painting, so the other children decided to 'paint', too. Spatter painting was started by Bobby Norris and carried on by many of the other children including Richard Denault and Stephen Robbins. They splashed paint with fervor on everything, including the walls and floor, but some very fine work was produced. In the meantime, Eleanor Young and Elwin Rice decided to stick to conventional art work, such as painting plastic molds.

After the exhibition that is now in progress, the crafts will be taken back to the High School, to be displayed during the last few days of playground, which ends on Friday, August 17.

There will also be a doll carriage, tricycle and bicycle parade, with prizes for the best entries, on Friday, August 10. And finally, on the last day, August 17, Miss Rounds and her assistant, Nan Anderson, will arrange a big party for all the children to enjoy.

AVCO SCIENTISTS CLOSE TO OVERCOMING FRICTION IN AIR FORCE MISSILES

Scientists are close to overcoming friction in the field of guided missiles thanks to the experiments being conducted at the Avco Mfg. Co. on the Revere Beach parkway in Everett, according to a high-ranking Air Force researcher addressing an Air Force convention in New Orleans, La.

"Atmospheric Re-Entry," is the term applied to the problem of enormous friction which would burn up a guided missile like a meteor when it re-enters the earth's atmosphere over a target after travelling through space at supersonic speeds.

The re-entry problem is the stumbling block which has stood in the path of perfecting an inter-continental ballistics missile, which has been the subject of much discussion by defense chiefs during the past months.

Brig. Gen. Don R. Ostrander, assistant in command of the Guided Missile program for the air research and development command, told the Air Force association convention that a "scientific shortcut" had been found around the friction obstacle. He said the work was being done by scientists of the Avco Mfg. Co. of Everett and Stratford, Conn.

VACATIONS

Mr and Mrs Howard Cates of High Street from Osterville on Cape Cod.

John Tobey of Salem Street, Larry and Douglas Frost of Church Street, David Fuller of Adams Street, and Kenneth Slater of Grove Street returned yesterday from two weeks as the YMCA Camp Lawrence on Bear Island, Lake Winnepesaukee.

However, the general did not disclose the nature of the "shortcut."

Avco officials at Everett said the new scientific methods are expected to save "huge amounts of time and money that would be required for actual missile flight tests."

Avco researchers are developing the vital nose cone for the missile. At the company's Everett laboratory, experiments already have been conducted with shock tubes which permit scientists to study simulated extreme speeds and temperatures higher than the heat on the sun's surface.

The speeds and temperatures involved approximate those which would be encountered in an ICBM flight and those involved in launching a man-made space satellite to orbit around the earth.
